VOL. XXIX.

WELLINGTON, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1895.

NO. 41.

CLOTHING!

Suit Department.

In this department may be found all the new designs in the latest styles and patterns, among them the popular "dove-tail frock," strictly proper for dress occasions. The three and four button cutaway suits are also among the many styles that are in great demand. Boys' suits in all styles and patterns at lowest prices. Children's suits in double breasted sacks, reefers, and Fauntleroy's, in fashionable patterns.

Underwear Department.

Every garment in this department has been bought for the coming fall and winter trade. We can show you eight different lines from which to select at 50c. a piece.

Pant Department.

For style that is original and patterns that are entirely new you should look through the immense stock in this department.

Hat Department.

The old hat should be discarded for one of the new blocks in the latest "Fedoras," or one of many styles in this season's derby.

Furnishings Department.

Space prevents the naming of everything in this department, but the neckwear, suspenders, socks, collars and cuffs are all new and the low prices, quality considered, will surprise you.

You may come, look the departments through, get the prices, and don't apologize for not buying, we will thank you for having looked.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

SPENCER.

Oct. 7.—Charley Inman, of Cleveland, spent Sunday at home.

Misses Belle Coleman and Laura Hankins are visiting in New Washington.

A large concourse of people gathered last Thursday at the M. E. church to pass their respects to one whom all loved. Joe Oakley was born March 16, 1875, and died Tuesday morning, October 1, 1895, at 1 o'clock. He has been in poor health for some time, with but little hope of his recovery, but all hoped that something might be done to stay the hand of death; that he might be spared to his family and many friends. To know him was to love him. He was naturally of a happy disposition and always had a bright smile and cheering word for both old and young.

Six of his girl friends robed in white, mostly of his graduating class acted as pall bearers. School was closed during the services and the scholars marched to the church. The business places were also closed. The flowers were lovely, given by the Christian Endeavor Society, his Sunday-school class, Sunday-school teacher and others. Rev. Gray officiated at the services, taking from Mark these words as a foundation to his remarks: "And Jesus, beholding him, loved him." Also from Hebrews: "Though he be dead, he speaketh." Thus ended a short but useful life and one cannot but feel that the world was made better by his having been in it. Though anxious to live, in conversation with his mother a few days before his death he said, "Your boy is all right." He was a member of the F. B. Church and was a faithful and active worker in the Sunday-school.

"Thus one by one they pass away,
From earth's unfriendly shore,
To that bright world of endless day,
Where partings are no more."

You've no Idea

How nicely Hood's Sarsaparilla suits the people who feel all tired out or run down from any cause. It seems to oil up the whole mechanism of the body so that all moves smoothly and work becomes delight. If you are weak, tired and nervous, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what you need. Try it.

That atrocious taint which has been in your blood for years, will be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.
